ZINC ORES BADLY WANTED

The Joplin Districts Production Falling Off—A Boom in Coal and Coke Lands—Scores of Prospects for Lead and Zinc Being Opened.

NEW YORK PRICES FOR OUR MINERALS

Crude barytes per ton,	$ 9 00
Floated " "	18 75
China clay, " "	8 25
Fire clay, best " "	6 00
Fluorspar, No. 1, per ton,	14 40
" gravel, " "	13 40
" ground, " "	18 90
Ochre, yellow, " "	10 00
" metallic brown, " "	19 00
Slip clay, " "	5 00

Owing to the cutting of the price in zinc in Joplin last week, a number of operators declined to dispose of their ore on the prices current, and as a consequence the shipment was 640 tons less, while the lead shipment was an increase of 125 tons, yet the value was $19,749 less than the preceding week. The highest price of the week was $41 per ton paid for the Vandalia ore assaying 63.70 per cent zinc, and selling on a basis of $37 per ton for 60 per cent zinc. A year ago zinc brought $34 and lead $44.50 per ton. Lead was steady all week at $54.50 per ton delivered or $54 in the bin. This is a decrease of $5 and $5.55 per ton from the price two weeks ago.

Compared with a year ago zinc sales were 2393 tons less and lead sales 156 tons more and the value $21,677 less than the past week.

Frank Nicholson, a well known mining engineer, who is home from an extended trip through Europe says: "Europe wants our zinc and will pay suitable prices for it. The foreign spelter market is firm, with every prospect that it will remain steady throughout the year, as the demand for manufactured zinc continues to increase as its consumption is multiplied by new uses. In America we do not know what the uses of zinc are, although its uses are widening, while in Europe it is used for nearly everything in the building line. There is no question about the strength of the foreign metal market, and it is probable that before the year is over there will be further calls for American spelter, a fact that has occurred once this year.

Many miners are making money in all parts of the district, in the old mines that were given up as losing propositions. Some of the other properties that have lain idle many years, and have been considered valueless, are to be thoroughly developed.

John N. Clark and associates have opened on Baker's hill what seems to be a superior article of china clay. Samples have been sent for analysis, and if the determination is favorable, extensive works will be established there.

Henry Stratton has broken the will of his father, the late Winfield S. Stratton, known as the Colorado Springs carpenter, who made millions of dollars out of his mining interests at Cripple Creek. The son receives $350,000.

A handsome sample of the Bell coal from the opening at Bella Mines in this county, and some 14 miles from Marion, can be seen at the Reed Mining company's office. Mr. Sayer, who is very familiar with the coal measures of this and other sections of the United States says that a remarkable thing about the Bell coal is its weathering qualities. For the past thirty years large quantities of slack, which could not be utilized when the mine was in operation at that time, has been exposed to all weathers for that number of years and today it is as bright and unchanged as on the day it was mined.

The splendid earnings of the Marion Bank, some 35 per cent, on a capitalization of $20,000, is due to a number of causes. The past year has been a wonderfully productive one in all branches, especially that of mining. The many new openings made on our ore veins has required the use of a good deal of money, from time to time, while the influx of capital, the sale of ores, etc., etc., has brought into the district a great many thousands of dollars. Still, a great proportion of the bank's earnings for the year is due largely to knowing how to make money earn more money.

The Crittenden County Lead, Zinc and Fluorspar company, at their Thurmond mine on the Klon dyke lead, have a splendid showing of zinc blende or Jack at 100 feet. At the present depth a drift of four feet caught the side of the vein and further drifting will decide its width and values, which, from the present indications, promise to be of very considerable magnitude.

The company locally known as the Pittsburg Combine, operating the DeKoven coal mines, have in operation a score or more of coke ovens, and are adding to the number as rapidly as possible. This indicates that most of our coal, particularly the Southern end of the coal measures, will produce good coke, as it is understood the sulphur is less here than at DeKoven.

Messrs Sayre & Steinmetz, of Marion, have located the coal and the place for their new opening at the Old Davis mine west of Sturgis, and as soon as the papers can be signed the new company, will begin operations on the property, which promises to be in a very short time one of the most productive collieries in the district.

The unwatering of the old Ball mine is so far advanced the upper part of the mine is now dry. A force of men have been put to work day and night driving an entry and taking out coal, and by next week the product of this old mine that had a national reputation in ante bellum days will again be on the market.

On the Eaton fluor spar showing seven or eight teams with plows and scrapers are uncovering the splendid vein of fluor spar and galena for 300 yards. It is understood that an open stope will be run the entire distance. This will produce a very great tonnage and keep many teams hauling to the railroad.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office, by the Globe Spar company, capitalization $100,000. Incorporators, S. M. Rice, Louisville; C. A. Sturtevant and Rev. J. R. Halswell, of Fredonia. Their property is the Eaton fluor spar ground recently purchased.

The Harris mining company have opened a strong fluor spar property some four miles south-east of Salem. Fully 100 tons of merchantable fluor spar is now on the dump ready for shipment. It will be delivered to the Illinois Central at Mexico station.

As will be noticed by the numerous paragraphs of new work commenced and to be commenced throughout the entire district, the season will likely be a very busy one and many large bodies of ore will very probably be brought to light.

Messrs McClelland and Steele, of Golconda and Elizabethtown, Ill., were in the city last Saturday. Mr. Steele represents the Pittsburg syndicate who made extensive purchases of mining land in Hardin county the first of the year.

Nearly two hundred miners and other employees of the Kentucky Fluor Spar company participated in the monthly pay out of that company last Saturday. This force will likely be doubled from now on until cold weather again strikes us next winter.

The lead deposits of the Black Hills is found in fissure veins and in mineralized zones in mica and schist. The veins are from three to five feet wide, the pay streaks vary from six inches to three feet.

A New York grand jury has indicted a mining promoter for making false representations about the value of stock sold by him. He was arrested in St. Louis.

It is reported that Eastern men have secured 15,000 acres of mineral lands along Quicksand creek, Knott county, Kentucky, at $20 per acre.

Mr. James Henry commenced prospect work last week on the Ward farm, near the Eaton property.

On the James Farmer land, just north of the Salem road, some four miles from Marion, a good opening on fluor spar was made last summer. Mr. Farmer is satisfied that by drifting on this vein a good big production can be made. The land is open for purchase or option on reasonable terms, the acreage being 96.

It is now generally admitted that the Joplin district is not furnishing anywhere near the amount of zinc ore demanded by the smelters.

Around Potosi, Mo., a boom in barite lands is on. Over 150 men are at work mining on very rich deposits.

Mr. Ed McFee and others are prospecting a very good showing for ore some two miles and a half from town. The vein they will likely open is one that passes under the Reed land.

In New York city an attempt is being made to interest the trade in the recently discovered fluor spar deposits near Rome, in Smith county, Tenn. About 200 tons were shipped in April.

For 1903 the production of copper in the Lake Superior country will be increased 15 per cent, which means nearly 25,000,000 pounds, the total for last year being 171,000,000.

The Marion Coal company, operating the Sullivan coal property are now shipping their product to consumers. It is an exceedingly good coal and is being marketed as rapidly as produced.

The Commercial Mining company are sinking three shafts on the Tabb vein, near what is known as the Tabb mine. The old deep shaft on this property is still idle.

Messrs Foster of Muncie, Ind., and Rosenbaugh of Indianapolis, will soon commence work on the 150 acre farm of Mrs Bennett, in a prospecting way.

A wall thirty feet high and thirteen feet broad could be built all around England with the coal annually mined in that country.

Major Clement will let a contract this week for sinking on the Clement mine near Crittenden Springs.

Twenty-five companies owning gold, silver and lead mines in seven different states have declared dividends of $1,062,899.

The output of zinc in Leadville shows a marked increase; 7,000 tons of zinc was marketed from that district in March last.

Mr. O. J. Keyes, of Akron, O., is working ten men on the Cam Harden farm at Lola, prospecting for carbonate of zinc.

The metal market in New York last week was quiet and unchanged. Lead in moderate demand at $4.37½; spelter $5.75.

The United States Steel company have secured options on extensive tracts of iron ore and coal lands in Alabama.

Extensive tracts of valuable coal lands in the Indian Territory have been optioned to H. C. Frick of Pittsburg.

The Reed Mining Company

Incorporated.

OF MARION, KENTUCKY.

Have a few choice building lots directly adjoining the city of Marion.

These lots are part of the 123 acres purchased from John P. Reed.

Every lot owner participates in the values of the great veins of mineral that underly this land and which out crop on the 23 acres deeded absolutely to the Company for its mining and separating plant.

On and after the first of June the price of one of these lots and $1000 shares of mining stock will be advanced to One Hundred Dollars.

The recent improvements on the land and the strong showing of mineral make this increase in price just and right to the original purchasers.

The stock in the Reed Mining Company is worth, based upon the mineral showing alone, 20 per cent. or $200 for each certificate of 100 shares.

The lots 50x150 feet, back to 15 foot alleys, and and fronting on 40 foot streets, are worth in themselves in any part of the city $100 at least.

Until June 1st the few lots remaining with the 1000 shares of stock will be sold for $50.

The Nancy Hanks shaft is now 115 feet in depth. Seven men were employed.

GEORGE HARRIS DEAD.

Prominent Newspaper Man Passes Away at Smithland.

Mr. George T. Harris, editor of the Cumberland Courier, died at his home in Smithland Friday evening, after several month's illness of tuberculosis. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, and the remains were laid to rest in the Smithland cemetery.

Mr. Harris was a native of Crittenden county, born on a farm near Dyousburg thirty-six years ago. His early life was spent at Dyousburg. Though his chances for obtaining an education were meager, he made the best of the opportunities afforded him. He was truly a self made man. He entered the newspaper business at an early age, installing a small printing outfit at Dyousburg when only a boy. He started a paper at Smithland fourteen years ago, but was unsuccessful and removed to Paducah, where he was connected with different papers during a period of many years. Eighteen months ago he returned to Smithland and began the publication of the Cumberland Courier. The paper was suspended a few weeks ago on account of Mr. Harris' condition. His wife, a daughter of Capt. J. W. Bush, of Smithland, and five children survive him.

POLITICS AT BOTTOM

Of Trouble in Breathitt County Says County Judge.

In an interview at Jackson Judge James Hargis declares that there is not a family in Breathitt county some one of whose members has not been slain by Marcus blood. Judge Hargis asserts that politics is at the bottom of the existing troubles in Breathitt. He declares he has been persecuted and vilified, and that Republican leaders have endeavored to run him out of the county. He says he is a business man and has been too busy to mix up in feudal affairs, but that the late James B. Marcum was reared in an atmosphere of feuds. He bitterly assails the reputation of the dead man, and says that Markham was generally unpopular in the county. Judge Hargis makes a sweeping denial of charges that he has been connected in any way with the assassinations in Breathitt county and states that his own life has been threatened on numerous occasions.

Ned Strong, an aged citizen of Breathitt county, before the murder informed Mrs. J. B. Marcum that on Sunday night he overheard a plot in a "blind tiger" saloon, three miles from Jackson, to assassinate Jas. B. Marcum on the following Monday. Strong says he sent a man to Jackson to warn Marcum, but the messenger failed to reach the attorney in time, and was endeavoring to attract Marcum's attention when the fatal shot was fired. Gov Beckham has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the assassin. The Governor suggested in a letter to Judge Hargis that a reward should be offered. Hargis responded by wire, naming $250 as the amount. Governor Beckham raised it to $500, the statutory limit.

AN HONEST MURDERER.

The story of the Indian who, sentenced to be hanged for murder, was allowed his freedom without bonds upon his promise to appear at the time and place fixed in the decree for his hanging, a promise which was faithfully kept, is matched by another which comes from the same section. The Territory of Oklahoma having no penitentiary, its criminals are cared for by its neighbor, Kansas. A man walked into the prison at Lansing a few days ago and presented a letter to the warden which said the bearer had been convicted of manslaughter and sentenced for a term of four years. As he was known to be honest, the services of a sheriff were dispensed with on the ground of economy.

FATAL WRECK

On Illinois Central near Morganfield—Three Killed.

AN UNLUCKY CROSSING.

A mule was the cause of three deaths and the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of property at Hardin crossing near Morganfield, Ky., early Thursday morning. Through freight train No. 341 was derailed while running at full speed.

Engineer Segog saw the mule on the track ahead of him and blew the whistle. Seeing that the animal was making no effort to get off the track he reversed his engine, applied the sand and attempted to stop the train. He was running at a high rate of speed and succeeded in reducing it but little when the obstruction was hit.

Instead of throwing the mule from the track the cowcatcher knocked him to the left side. The engine veered to the right and left the track, tumbling down a small ravine and turning over on the right side.

Engineer Shegog, Fireman Manion and Flagman Hicks were caught beneath the big engine and crushed to death.

The track was torn up for quite a distance and it was some time before it could be cleared for traffic.

Engineer Shegog lived at Paducah, Ky., and had been in the employ of the road for a number of years. Fireman Manion lived at Henderson.

The only surviving member of the ill-fated crew is F. J. Durbin, an old line engineer, who said that it was the worst wreck that ever occurred on the Henderson and Princeton division and the worst he ever saw or heard of in which the loss of life was so small, yet according to the number of the crew the fatalities could hardly have been greater, unless Conductor Durbin himself had been killed.

In speaking of the wreck Conductor Durbin said, "we were coming at our usual gait with a train of 15 cars and everything seemed to be moving smoothly. I was in the caboose and had no thought that we were approaching the fatal spot of death and disaster—a place too, that all have good reason to dread, for it is known as the death trap."

"Nearly a million dollars' worth of property and many valuable lives have been lost right here at this Hardin crossing. Within a few yards of the spot 9 passenger coaches, a returning excursion train were wrecked and burned here about a year ago and several other fatalities have occurred within a short distance at various times. It is a fatal crossing and old engineers dread it. Only five years ago the same number of people were killed in a wreck, engineer, fireman and brakeman on a freight laden much as we were—a somewhat remarkable coincidence."

DRANK BOILING WATER.

The Dixon Journal says: The three-year-old son of Forest Shoulters, of near Clay, was burned so badly on last Monday that he died Tuesday morning of the injuries. The facts as we get them are about as follows: A tea kettle of boiling water was setting on the grate; and, turning it over, his mouth was filled with the boiling water; besides his body was horribly burned.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN.

Will Head the Ticket, Says Senator Hanna.

In a recent interview Senator Hanna said:

"All this talk about my candidacy for the Presidency is all bosh. I have just returned from the dedication of the St. Louis Fair, and it was a most glorious occasion. President Roosevelt's name will certainly head the Republican ticket next year. Nothing will prevent his nomination; he will be elected by a large majority."

"What importance do you attach to the frequent mention of Grover Cleveland's name by some of the Democrats?"

"I see that he is frequently mentioned as their candidate, and the fact at this time strikes me as being very significant. He commanded a great deal of attention at St. Louis, for he is the only living ex-President and certainly one of the greatest Democrats. He does not often appear in public now, and that he should consent to make so great a journey may have a meaning of its own. While I do not care to predict that he will be the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, yet, I repeat, the mention of his name so frequently by politicians in all classes looks significant."

Mr. Hanna refused to discuss whether he would like to conduct a campaign against Cleveland or not, or to talk about any other political subject.

AGAINST CIGARETTES.

Instructions positively forbidding the use of cigarettes by those employed in the passenger service of the New York division of the Reading railroad have been issued by Mr. Evillmore, passenger trainmaster. Dismissal from the employ of the road is to be penalty for failure to obey the mandate.

"Men who smoke cigarettes are apt to have lapses of memory, and it is not safe to trust the lives of passengers in the hands of persons who have that failing."

The instructions not only forbid the use of cigarettes by the men while on duty, but also when they are off duty. —Cincinnati Post.

NOT TO PLEASE YOU ALONE.

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel, only different, thinks the Falls, Neb., Journal. When a man goes into a hotel he finds something on the table that does not suit him, but he does not up and raise his heels with the landlord and tell him to stop his darned old hotel. Well, hardly. He sets that dish to one side and wades into some of the many dishes that do suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that not suit them, and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grand stand play of their assiniety, and hasten over to stop their paper.

MORGAN'S ESCAPE.

Glenn's Graphic, at Madisonville, has issued in book form "Morgan's Escape," which has been running as a serial in the Graphic. It is a brief history of the raid of Gen. John H. Morgan and his men through Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio; their capture, incarceration in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, the escape of General Morgan and five of the men from prison, and tragic death of the intrepid leader. The story is by Capt. Hockersmith, who planned and executed the escape. The book retails at 25 cents and can be secured from the Graphic office.

NECRO REPUBLIC

In Hayti—A Kentuckian's Suggestion Seems to Take.

A New York dispatch says: William Pickens, the negro who won the junior exhibition prize at Yale, has been asked to become the head of a new Afro-American republic to be established in Hayti. In his oration which won the prize Pickens dismissed Hayti's freedom and declared against it.

The scheme is to effect a conquest of the Island of Hayti by American negroes and to set up a government, Utopian in character. The Junta of the movement is at Sturgis, Ky., and the correspondent of the society is H. L. Musgrove. He asks that Mr. Pickens act as secretary and board member in this section and says that the Yale man would eventually be chosen as president of the society. It is also suggested that he take the lecture platform and raise funds for the organization.

Pickens, when seen, said that he had the matter under consideration and would seek advice before enlisting his services in the matter. In discussing the plan he said:

"Innovations and novelties in the methods of government are proposed after Hayti has been overcome. While the government would be republican in its political formation it would be administered as a gigantic corporation, of which all members of the society would be stockholders. All land titles and franchises are to be vested in the state. All dangerous and incorrigible criminals will be provisioned and set adrift on the sea to seek others shores."

"Agriculture, manufacturing and all other profitable industries are to be encouraged."

"Public schools are to be established and liberty to be widespread but the rights of each individual are to be bounded by equal rights of every other."

Fear End of the World is Near.

Information just received from Warren, an isolated little village in the southwestern part of this county, says the villagers are fearful that the end of the world is imminent. In the middle of Tannack Swamp, near Warren, there is a pond. A few days ago the inhabitants of the village were alarmed by a loud rumbling, and then the pond rose from its bed 100 feet in the air and dropped back into its original place with a terrific crash. J. H. Angerine, who was near the pond when it shot into the air, was covered with water. Some families in Warren are planning to move out of the village. —Chicago Record-Herald.

AN OLD FAMILY.

The oldest family in the world is said to live in Bell county, Ky. The cumulative age of the family in question, the Greens, beats the record. Lewis Green is ninety-three; his wife, Virginia, ninety-two; married seventy-three years ago, they live in the same house to which a bride and bridegroom they went three quarters of a century ago. They have ten children the youngest of whom is 43. There never has been a death in the family.

Strange things have come to pass during the last half century. Once Russia was our friend in need, and now we oppose a Russian scheme because we want to pose as a nation insisting upon justice. At the time that Russia came to our aid Great Britain was doing all it could against us. A few months ago we stood idly by while Great Britain violated every tenet of justice and robbed the Boers of the land they had wrested from the wilderness.

When President Roosevelt visited Albuquerque, New Mexico, last week, he was shown a tableau representing New Mexico seeking entrance to the Union. Forty-five little girls stood behind a fence, with Uncle Sam at the gate. One little girl on the outside represented the Territory. The President said when New Mexico had more irrigation the girl on the outside could join the others.

Because the citizens object to a negro letter carrier, Postmaster General Payne has suspended service on free delivery route No. 1 at Gallatin, Tenn. John C. Allgood, the negro carrier, was held up by two masked men and ordered not to make another trip. Postmaster General Payne was notified of the occurrence and ordered service suspended pending an investigation.

Some of the gold papers of the south are giving Mr. Cleveland credit for trying to settle the race question. They should remember that it was the desertion of the Cleveland democrats that made it possible for Mr. McKinley to be elected twice and for President Roosevelt to inject the race question into politics.

THE JACKSON TRAGEDY.

Editorial Comment of Lexington Papers on Murder of Marcum.

The predictions that this foul assassination will cause a bloody war of factions and continued crime and violence must be made false. The punishment of this crime, and of those who planned and caused it, must be under the law, though the judicial processes of the law. This crime is a public crime against Kentucky, and Kentucky must punish it. Appeal to force, to war, to private vengeance, is not what Breathitt county now demands. The State must interpose and prevent the continuance of private war.

The present deplorable and infamous condition of affairs cannot continue; but it is not possible to end it by other means than those Boone Logan finally adopted with such success at Morehead.

It is indeed wonderful to read as happening in Kentucky, in a town in which is a successful collegiate institution, a town that has for years been the terminus of a railroad: that in front of the court house the dying body of the leading lawyer and citizen was shot into in open day, in the presence of the county and town; that his brains cozed out on the pavement, and his heartbroken but undimmed wife gathered up these scattered brains in her handkerchief, and yet no one knows the murderer; no arrests are made; the investigation is stopped, and the community is overawed and is too cowardly to take any steps to bring the assassin to trial.

There may be a temporary trepidation, a momentary cowardice, but it is impossible for such crimes to be frequently, openly, insolently, defiantly, barbarously, committed in any English speaking community, without revolt or condign punishment.—Lexington Herald.

Had all the fiends been hanged who are charged with complicity in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, the assassinations at Jackson might not have occurred. Those who laud the assassination of Goebel and have done everything in their power to prevent the conspirators from being brought to justice, are responsible in large part for the lawlessness in Breathitt county. A number of newspapers that are expressing great sorrow over the assassination of Marcum, either printed no word of condemnation of the assassins of Goebel or openly defended it. The sheets sowed the seeds of anarchy that are now grown to full harvest in Breathitt.—Lexington Democrat.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY AFLOAT

Secret service detectives are at work looking throughout this territory for a band of counterfeiters who have been turning out spurious national bank notes, which are found in circulation in Western Kentucky.

It is an imitation of a $5 note, issued by the National Bank at Lebanon, Ky., and contains a photograph of General Garfield. The check letter is D, the charter number 2150, the bank number 1578, the Treasury D862841D, and it contains the forged signature of O. D. Thomas, assistant cashier, and John D. Carlisle, vice president.

The work is very crude, and the counterfeit is a photographic reproduction of the genuine note. It is made of two pieces of stiff glazed paper, with a little silk fibre between them, and the various designating numbers are crudely colored by hand. The work is so inferior that it would attract the attention of any one who received one of the bills. Photographing currency is an old method of counterfeiting, and has been practiced by scores of men who have been arrested for violating the federal laws.

HIGH PRICES

One of the largest cattle deals ever made in Kentucky to a single purchaser was consummated by Giltner Bros. of Eminence, Ky. to Mr. C. E. Clapp, vice president and general manager of the Crucible Steel company of America, which has headquarters at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Clapp has figured with the leading Hereford dealers on both sides of the Atlantic and found no cattle that could compare with those of the bluegrass state.

Mr. Clapp secured Acrobat, a 9 year old bull, at the fancy price of $3,500. This is the highest price known to have been paid in the world for a hereford bull of that age, with two exceptions.

He also secured fifteen females, ranging in price from $350 to $600 a head.

The total purchase amounted to nearly $10,000. The cattle were shipped to the stock farm of Mr. Clapp, which is located at Berryville, Va.

Promises are Good But to Do is Better!

When a house states that they'll sell you goods for less money than you can buy them elsewhere, that it will pay YOU to trade with them and so forth, they have done no more than every house in the country does—they all boldly claim to do exactly the same thing. So if claims, promises and big talk is all that you are looking for, you can get that anywhere, everywhere at exactly the same price. But to put the prices in "cold type" and defy competition to match them, is an argument that is not answered by claims and promises. We not only claim that we can save you some money, but we "SHOW YOU." Now, here are a few of the many good things:

The farmers and the Missouri grand jurors are the busiest people in the country this spring.

Between five and six hundred Democrats participated in the primary Saturday. Had the old way of settling the matter prevailed, anywhere from fifty to two hundred voters would have met at the court house and appointed delegates. The primary is nearer the source of power.

Neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Cleveland expect to be the party's nominee for 1904, but each seems determined that the other shall have as little as possible to do with naming the nominee. If they could be induced to compromise on policies, without touching the questions that involve the difference of principles between them, some difficulties that embarrass the party could be eliminated.

The value of the press in the practical affairs of public life was forcibly illustrated last week. The public was about to look upon the Maroum assassination as an appalling incident of mountain life, that, however deeply regretted, must be borne as a part of the nature of that section. The Courier-Journal took the matter up and in both editorial and news columns so plainly adorned the tale with facts, and pointed the moral with truth, that the assassin is not going to escape justice, and the spirit of assassination in the feudal territory will be checked.

County attorney Henderson's card to road overseers is calculated to produce something more substantial than mere thoughts on the road question. We will eventually have to wake up to the fact that the only way to get good roads is to make them, and the only way to make them is to go at it "hammer and tongs" fashion. Road conventions, arguments, theories and plans will not make roads; they can only serve to set us to work, and work is the whole thing. With the officials expressing a determination to enforce the law, the overseers may make up their minds to face the dilemma without flinching this summer. When the present system is given a fair trial, that is when every road hand puts in six good, solid days' work, with the necessary extra days for emergencies, and the six or seven thousand dollars usually appropriated is added to this, there will be a surprising improvement in conditions.

MC. D. FERGUSON WINS.

Nominated For Railroad Commissioner in First District.

Telegraphic reports received by the Press state that McD. Ferguson, of McCracken county, has defeated J. F. Dempsey, of Hopkins county, for railroad commissioner of this district. His majority is between 1,000 and 1,500.

Morgan Chinn's majority over Robt L. Green for clerk court of Appeals is between 5,000 and 6,000.

Cook defeated Bush for Circuit Judge in the third judicial district by a very small majority. The contest was bitterly fought.

The decisive steps being taken to uncover the assassin of J. B. Maroum in Breathitt county meets the warmest approval of every good citizen in the State. To claim that the law is absolutely powerless in such matters, is to acknowledge the inadequacy of legislation to meet the primary demands of civilization. A wholesome public sentiment, and a vigorous, conscientious, official effort can wipe out those feuds in a very few years. The brazenness of the assassin in the Maroum case has aroused public indignation as never before, and the outlook for a healthy prosecution is encouraging.

The Monitor Arkansas has run aground near St. Genevieve, Mo., and will be forced to remain for an indefinite period. She is on her return trip from St. Louis to the sea, but the Mississippi is falling so rapidly that she can not proceed.

Curtis Jett was arrested at the home of his mother Sunday in Madison county, on the charge of assassinating James B. Maroum at Jackson, Ky. The arresting officers were Sheriff Woodson McChord and a posse that accompanied him from Winchester. On arriving at his mother's home Jett threatened to shoot his stepfather, who did not want him to remain at home. Sheriff McChord found Jett in bed. The arrest was accomplished without incident, and the prisoner was taken to Winchester and lodged in jail. The reported assassination of Belvin J. Ewen at Jackson Saturday is denied. The warrant against Jett was sworn out by Tom Cockrell. It is stated that several strong witnesses will appear against Jett. He bears a very bad reputation.

THE NINTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT.

The Graduates Entertained Large Audiences Thursday, Friday and Saturday Nights

CLOSE OF A SUCCESSFUL TERM.

The festivities that attend the closing days of the school term were concluded Saturday night, with the presentation of an entertaining and profitable program by the high school graduating class.

The commencement exercises began Thursday evening. Fifteen common school graduates appeared in an unique entertainment that was highly pleasing to the big audience. "An Evening With Longfellow" was thoroughly and richly enjoyed. The tableaux were splendid, every detail of the beautiful stage pictures receiving careful attention. Scenes from "Hiawatha," "The Hanging of the Crane," "The Children's Hour," and "Evangeline" were given. The program of the evening was concluded with "The Courtship of Miles Standish," sketched and presented in two scenes.

"A Riley Sothal" on Friday evening concluded the exercises of the common school class. The remaining graduates, fifteen in number, took part in the evening's work. The program consisted of readings from James Whitcomb Riley. The efforts of the graduates were commendable, and the prolonged applause that greeted each speaker made it plain that the audience was appreciative. Miss Eula Thurman, the beautiful and talented daughter of Mr. E. E. Thurman, delivered the valedictory. The address of Miss Thurman, the chosen leader of her class, was a pretty and most worthy conclusion to the commencement exercises of the common school class.

Saturday evening was devoted to the high school class. The program consisted of orations.

"Has a Woman any Business in Business" was the theme of the salutatorian's address, and Miss Susie Gilbert handled the momentous question in a most admirable manner.

Mr. Lossie E. Gilbert had chosen for his subject, "Nature The Best Teacher." He was very entertaining.

The third speaker was Miss Bessie Trisler. "No Room For Sectionalism," her theme, was inspiring and patriotic.

"Growth" is a broad subject, but it proved a source of many splendid thoughts, presented in a charming way by Miss Leslie Woods.

Miss Mabel Gness, with "A Literary Heroine," as her theme, beautifully and touchingly portrayed the life of Louise May Alcott.

"A Plea For Individuality," was the subject of a thoughtful and interesting address by Mr. Ernest Paris. The young gentleman is a highly talented speaker.

Miss Nellie Champion, the class valedictorian, spoke on "Dreams." Her address was well arranged and well delivered. The valedictory remarks were very pretty.

After the orations of the graduates, Prof Evans introduced Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, principal of the girls high school, of Louisville. The noted educator's remarks made a lasting impression on his hearers. He presented the diplomas to the graduates. Prof. Bartholomew's address was the concluding feature of the commencement exercises.

On Friday evening the Hayward gold medal, offered each year to the young lady or gentleman making the highest grade in the eighth grade work, was presented to Miss Willie Croft, one of the youngest members of the graduating class.

The music rendered by a number of young ladies and gentlemen of the city was immensely enjoyed and the musical numbers added much to the attractiveness of each evening's program.

As in the past the people of Marion and surrounding country showed their appreciation of the splendid work of Marion school, under the management of Prof. Evans and his corps of teachers. Audiences that filled the house to overflowing greeted the graduates every evening, although an admission fee was charged.

The school grows year by year, the people grow more enthusiastic over its work and more clearly realize its great value as time goes by. Nine years of work have been accomplished, and not a term has proven a failure. Prof. Evans promised many good things, when he took charge of the school, and he has more than fulfilled those promises. He has clearly proven that as an educator he has but few peers in Kentucky, and his management of the school has been endorsed repeatedly by the patrons of the institution.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY.

Light Vote Throughout the State. Some Close Races.

A STRONG TICKET SELECTED.

In the Democratic primary election held throughout Kentucky Saturday, to select a State ticket to be voted for at the November election, the following candidates were successful:

Governor—J. C. W. Beckham.
Lieut Governor—W. P. Thorne of Henry county.
Auditor—S. W. Hager, of Boyd
Treasurer—H. M. Bosworth, of Fayette.
Sec. of State—H. V. McChesney, of Livingston.
Supt. Public Inst action—J. H. Fuqua, of Logan.
Commissioner of Agriculture—Hubert Vreeland, of Jefferson.
Clerk of Court of Appeals—Morgan Chinn, of Mercer.
Attorney General—N. B. Hayes of Bell.

The race between Hayes and Mitchell for Attorney General was very close, and both Green and Chinn claimed to have won the nomination for clerk court of Appeals, but reports show that Chinn is the winner.

Gov Beckham polled about 75,000 votes. McChesney, the only candidate with the exception of Gov. Beckham who had no opposition, received about 30,000 votes.

In the race for Supt. of Public Instruction Fuqua's majority over Ben Watt is about 6000. Arnold was third in the fight; Sugg, fourth, and Watkins receives the smallest vote.

The primary passed off quietly everywhere. The vote was light owing to the fact that Gov. Beckham had no opposition.

Many of the citizens of Lexington are strongly in favor of a movement to abolish Breathitt county and the sentiment is endorsed by some of the citizens of Jackson.

HUGHES—DUVALL.

Mr. A. R. Hughes and Miss Mary Duvall were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. E. M. Duvall, Rev. J. S. Henry, of this city officiating.

The bride is a pretty young lady, widely known, and has many friends throughout the county.

Mr. Hughes is the well known druggist of Weston. He is a most successful young business man.

RELIGIOUS THEATER,

To Teach the Gospel—Plan of Herbert Booth.

To teach the gospel through the eye by means of a religious theater is the plan of Herbert Booth, son of General Booth, whose resignation from the Salvation Army is still a mystery.

Mr. Booth, who has arrived in New York, is not unlike his brother Ballington. He came to New York almost direct from Zion City, the headquarters of Dowism, but he denies that he has joined the Dowie movement.

"The movement I am going to start in New York," said he, "is meant to solve the problem of the unreached masses. It was for that that my father started the Salvation Army. My appeal is to the eye. I am going to form in this city a great theatre, with a powerful company of Christian actors. My movement is to be known as the Scientific evangelization society, and it will be for the purpose of sending broadcast illustrated bible dramas. I expect to get such great writers as Canon Farrar was to write powerful dramas for me. This I will have told in continuous pictures by the cinematograph."

OBITUARY.

Once more the sombre-winged angel visits our town, Shady Grove. This time he claimed Mrs. Susie Asher Turner, wife of Mr. Hal Turner, and daughter of J. G. Asher and wife.

In her death the community at large sustains the loss of one of its brightest jewels, and her parents a precious daughter, brothers and sisters a lovable and loving sister, her husband a truly noble and faithful companion, and her church (Baptist) one of its fairest young sisters.

For some weeks she had been confined to her room and bed, when on the 28th of April death came to her relief.

Though Susie is no more of this world, save in appreciated memory, she leaves to her many, many friends and loved ones the precious heritage of a consoling hope that they shall meet her again in the Paradise of God.

Sister Susie was born Nov. 24, 1884, and professed faith in our divine Lord in 1896 and united with the church here the same year, living an exemplary life, dying a triumphant death.

At 1 o'clock on the 29th a large concourse of people attested their appreciation of and sympathy with deceased, and the bereaved, by attending the funeral at the church, and after funeral, by the writer, from Room 8:35, her mortal remains were laid to rest in the Shady Grove cemetery to await the quickening powers of her descending Lord in the happy resurrection morn.

Brother and sister Asher, very gratefully remember the manifestations of sympathy and many acts of kindness shown them by their friends in this their sad affliction.

LIVELY TIMES

In Prohibition State Convention. Ticket Nominated.

After a lively session the Kentucky Prohibitionists nominated a State ticket at Louisville and adjourned. The majority report contained only a declaration for prohibition. The minority report contained an additional plank favoring female suffrage. Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, state president of the W. C. T. Her friends denied she bolted the convention, but stated that she was compelled to catch the train. The ticket nominated is as follows: Governor, T. B. Demaree; Lieutenant Governor, O. T. Wallace; Treasurer, J. A. Barrall; Attorney General, Judge William Stone; Secretary of State, Chas. Brevard; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mrs. H. E. Brooks; Auditor, R. Sid Bustin; Commissioner of Agriculture, C. L. Hammerman.

THE HOLDUP OF MARY ASHTON

(Original.)

Mary Ashton had a remarkable talent for all games. Mary's father went to Colorado with his family and engaged in banking before the days when railroads carried people everywhere. Mary showed as much aptitude at western sports, shooting, riding, skating, as she had shown at other games. A natural fearlessness was a great help to her in these more manly sports.

That was the time Redhand Bill, as he was called, was masquerading as a road agent. He was one of the gentlemanly rascals who invite men to hand over their purses in true Robin Hood style and was especially gallant to the women he robbed. One day Mr. Ashton had occasion to send $3,000 to a neighboring town, and there was no one at hand by whom to send it. He was complaining at home of his want of a messenger when his daughter Mary spoke up:

"I'll take it, father."

"You? Suppose Redhand Bill were to hold you up. What would you do?"

"They say he is very gallant to women."

"Yes, but he always takes their valuables."

Mary persevered, and her father, thinking there would be no trouble, or, if there were, a woman would fare no worse than a man, consented. The next day Mary left with the money, which she chose to carry in her grip-sack. The coach had traversed most of the route when a man stepped into the road, leveled a rifle at the driver's head and called on him to draw rein. This done, the agent invited the passengers to alight and line up in the usual way. He relieved them of their funds—no great haul—but when he came to Mary Ashton's bag his eyes stood out with delight.

"Good morning, Bill," said Mary.

"Good morning, beauty," replied Bill, good natured at his find, while a tremor ran through the line at the girl's temerity. "How did you know my name's Bill?"

"Oh, I've often heard of Redhand Bill and wanted to meet him. They say you are a fine euchre player. I've always wanted to see how you played your hands. Can't we have a game?"

Bill stood looking at her in as great astonishment as the passengers.

"Certainly. Got any cards?"

"I always carry them to pass the time on a journey."

Mary produced a pack of cards, and Bill, after disarming the passengers, permitted them to lower their hands, and he and Mary sat down to a game.

"I'm Banker Ashton's daughter. If I had a blank check, I'd fill it in for a stake."

The road agent always carried blank checks, for he frequently compelled his victims to sign them. He dived into his hip pocket, took one out and handed it to Mary, with a fountain pen which he found as available as the blanks. Mary filled it in for $1,000, pledging her word that it would be good. "Now for the best two in three games for $1,000," she said.

Bill staked ten $100 bills against it, and the game proceeded. He won the first and Mary won the next two games. Bill laughed a short, nervous laugh and put up another thousand. Mary won the first and the last game of this rubber. The next rubber Mary lost and asked Bill if he would play no more, "double or quits." He gallantly consented, and Mary won two successive games.

"Put up," she said, raking in the funds.

"Put up? I'm busted! Shut up, you mean, and so I do. You're the pluckiest woman and the best euchre player, man or woman, I ever met. If you'll give me just one kiss, I'll call this job off and let you and the whole kit go scot free, with all the stuff."

Mary was so delighted with her success, especially with respect to her fellow passengers, that she threw her arms about the robber's neck and gave him a hearty smack. Then, taking a twenty dollar bill from the money she had saved, she said:

"Take that and drink my health with it, and if ever you decide to leave this life come to me, and I'll get my father to help you."

"I won't take your money," said Bill, "but some day I may accept your offer."

Some years later a prospector named Stone appeared in the town where the Ashtons lived, and after his departure was "grub staked" by Mr. Ashton, till he struck a fairly valuable property, upon which Mr. Ashton organized a gold mining company. This led to other discoveries, and at last the man became rich. Then there was a great scandal. The wealthy Stone was arrested and charged with being the redoubtable Redhand Bill, who years before had terrorized the country. When his trial came, Mary Ashton, whose adventure with Bill had been long and widely known, was called upon to identify him.

"Stand up!" said the prosecuting attorney to the prisoner. Then, to the witness, "Were you in a coach some years ago that was robbed?"

"I was."

"Was this the man that robbed it?"

Mary and the prisoner were looking straight into each other's eyes.

"No."

This virtually ended the trial. A cloud passed over the face of the presiding judge. He sat thinking for a few moments, then, turning to the prisoner, said:

"You are discharged."

SWINE BREEDING

Some time ago I had quite a heavy hog I wished to take to market. I backed my stench up to the hogpen door and tried to load the hog, first by coaxing, then by compelling, but neither one availed. Strength on my part was getting exhausted, and, seeing a neighbor passing, I called for help. "Give me a pig!" said he, "and we'll load that hog on the stench in no time. Let her head in the opposite direction from what you want her to go, then you take a stick and stab, and I will hold the pig over her nose." Well, it didn't take a minute for that hog to back on to the stench-car, and I was a happy man.

Hope For Hogs.
There is more inquiry for hogs and the methods of raising and feeding them than ever before, and it seems to look up as if it were to become a universal form of crop. The swine growers are beginning to feel that there is nothing like raising a hog for the growth of young pigs while they are with the brood mother and to put up to the hard corn feeding period.

A Prize Winning Berkshire.
The animal represented in the illustration is the two-year-old Berkshire boar King Marvie, a prize winner at many fairs and an especially big and strong animal. He is owned by Elmer A. Moses of Ohio and Indiana. Concerning the development of his boars, Mr. Moses says to American Agriculturist:

KING MARVIE
strong animal. He is owned by Elmer A. Moses of Ohio and Indiana. Concerning the development of his boars, Mr. Moses says to American Agriculturist:

In raising our hogs we feed milk, dillies, corn and chopped feeds which are rich in protein in order to build up a strong muscular body. Milk is one of the best things any one could possibly get, not only a clever pasteurizing the summer. Chopped clover hay soaked and warmed is most excellent for a winter diet when no green food can be had. We consider corn a poor feed if used very extensively for the building of a large frame, so we feed it sparingly.

The best pigs should not be allowed to run together after reaching the age of five months, as they begin to fret and worry one another and will not develop properly. They should be put in an isolated place with no other hogs. While feeding a fine young four, his toes should be kept trimmed close in order to aid him in standing erect and truly on his feet.

Half in the Wool Market.

Some weeks ago we called attention to some of the obstacles to higher prices for wool and ventured to suggest that the limit of the advance was not far away, says Stockman and Farmer. Subsequent events have verified this. Recently the trade has been rather dull, but the prices have been well sustained. The market has received a check, but not a setback. While it will be hard to put prices much higher than the current level, there is little reason to anticipate a serious break. The world's supplies are not excessive, though the attractive prices have drawn wool from all corners. The new clip will come to market this year with little of the old in the country, the supply mostly in slight at market points, and the buyer can operate with more confidence than usual in view of this fact.

BUDS AND FLOWERS OF HOME LIFE.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes and Keeps the Children Well and Strong.

Mothers Make It the Home Medicine For the Little Ones.

The children, God bless them, are the buds and flowers of our homes. Without their prattle and hearty laughter, our homes would be desolate. They should ever be carefully tended in childhood and youth, if we expect them to ripen into perfect men and women. In the home and at school, the children have their times of ill health and suffering. We often note the pallid and bloodless cheeks, heavy eyes, nervous movements, and twitchings of limbs and muscles. They complain of headache, dizziness, weakness, dyspepsia, and indigestion. All such symptoms and ailments mean that the seeds of disease will have a fast and firm hold, unless proper measures are taken to restore a perfect condition of health.

Thousands of wise and prudent parents have made their children happy, healthy, and vigorous by giving them Paine's Celery Compound. In many severe and complicated cases, Paine's Celery Compound has restored health when the little ones were given up by physicians.

If your dear ones are not as hearty, strong, and rugged as they should be, try the health giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. It makes and keeps the children well.

JEFF DAVIS MONUMENT.

At Richmond, the bazar which has been held for the benefit of the Jefferson Davis memorial fund is expected to net about $22,000, and this amount, with the $48,000 in the treasury, will practically complete the sum which the ladies having the matter in hand have aimed at. It is understood that the form of memorial is not likely to be an arch, as a handsome monument can be erected for $70,000, whereas an arch, worthy of the person and cause to be remembered would cost much more.

The Vaste of the Body

Every seven days the blood, muscle, and bones of a man of average size lose two pounds of worn-out tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform the functions, the strength lets down, the health gives way, and disease follows. Kodol digestive cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of mind and body. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. At Haynes.

FROM BEGGAR TO MILLIONAIRE

August Sahiberg, a multi-millionaire mining man, is dead. Sahiberg went to El Oro, Mexico, ten years ago from Montana. He was without money or friends, and after many months of hard labor struck the vein of what is now the famous Esperanza mine, which in a few years yielded him a fortune of more than $15,000,000.

A Little Early Riser.

New and then, at bedtime will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the famous little pills that will cure by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently yet effectively, yet giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach and liver that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely, and if this rule is continued for a few days there will be no return of the complaint. At Woods & Co.

A Lizard, Not Appendicitis.

Frank Umstead, who died after an operation for appendicitis, is believed to have suffered from a lizard, which he swallowed while drinking. After his death a nearly full sized lizard is said to have crawled out of his mouth. —Chesler, Pa. Telegram.

A Startling Test.

To save life Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Melopony, Pa. made a startling test, resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes that a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. Had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles, so I prescribed them; the patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months. Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. Only 50c; Woods & Co's.

An official estimate made of the forest area of the United States, puts it at 700,000,000 acres. Had the forests been intelligently managed the amount of merchantable timber in them would have been ten times as great.

Worn Out Stockings.

Stockings and socks that have seen their best days and are on their way to the rag bag may be utilized in various ways by the careful housewife. Cut off the feet, then fold the leg part over several times and sew the ends, and one has a soft holder for grasping kettles, the stove lifter, irons and other utensils of the kitchen. White bores is capital when used as a window cleaner in place of the old duster or bit of discarded muslin which many women save for this purpose.

A Good Curling Fluid.
A good curling fluid may be made thus: Place thirty quince seeds to simmer for a couple of hours in a pint of distilled water, strain and then add one gill of alcohol, refined spirits of wine or brandy and a teaspoonful of can de Cologne. Bottle and keep tightly corked. When using, dampen the hair with the mixture before putting in the wavers.

Eggshells.
It is a fact that few housewives are aware of that throwing eggshells on the fire when burning garbage will cause clinkers. The lime of the shells combines on the clinders, pulling them into hard masses. Herein lies the explanation of fires going out at such unreasonable times and seasons.

Quick Arrest.

J. A. Gullidge of Verbena, Ala., was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies had failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It conquers aches and pain; at Woods & Co.

The cattle king of the Western plains is passing away forever. A few years ago there were nearly 100 millionaires exclusive of cattle men in the Southwest. Now there are but thirty.

In a recent letter from Fred Edmonds who traveled for the Forked Deer Pants Co. of Paducah, Ky., he says: "I was seized with a very severe headache and securing a box of Hill's Headache Tablets I obtained immediate relief and a cure. These tablets are the friends of everybody who has given them a trial, as they will give immediate relief in neuralgia, nervous affections, reduce fever and cure any case of nervous headache that ever was in a few minutes; price 25c; for sale by all proprietary medicine dealers in the county."

A Struggle With English.
American tourists abroad often comment upon the literal translation into English of notices in foreign languages. The well meant efforts of landlords and others to convey in the language of the visitor the meaning of the native often produce laughable results.

A Washington citizen found this notice posted in his room in an Alpine hotel:

"Mistern, the venerable voyagers are earnestly requested not to take clothes of the bed to see the sun rise for the color changes." —Washington Star.

Our Paper Money.

The man who is ever ready to bet on anything said suddenly to a group of members of the club, "I'll bet a case of catnip to a bottle of curry powder that there isn't a man in the party that can name the denominations of United States paper money." All lost, and all were ashamed when he mentioned $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. Most men are unaccustomed to handling notes above $100, and few ever saw one of $10,000. —New York Press.

Kind Washers.

One of the most ill founded of all popular delusions is that blushing is the special characteristic of the female sex. As a matter of fact, except in the case of very young girls, men blush far more readily than women. The well bred woman never blushes at all, while it is a matter of everyday experience that in the excitement of business or political discussions men's cheeks redden with very little provocation. What ever may have been the case a hundred years ago, the modern woman shows her emotion not by blushing, but by turning pale. —London Tatler.

Made Young Again.

We will swear that some of our honorable county officials come out pretty plain in speaking to the men that will have to pick and shovel on our highways the coming summer to make the roads passable so the nabobs can run their rubber tired buggies over said roads. We somehow or other always thought it right to speak kindly to a mule that had our work to do; in days past our county officials used to treat the boys like equals and brothers.

Threats somehow or other have never amounted to much with the average Kentuckian. Kindness will almost move a mountain.

A few idle words spoken about one's neighbors sometimes raises hail in Georgia. The best plan is to attend to one's own business, and the average person will have his hands pretty full. This neighborhood is about half through planting corn; some are done and will begin to fix their tobacco.

Now is a good time to clean off our graveyard and put a fence around it—between planting corn and setting tobacco.
